P. Burns shipped in six cars of cattle from Gleichen to be fed for the balance of the winter, by Wm. Reid, who lives across the Rose Bud. The reason of so many of Burns' cattle being shipped from that point to Crossfield is; it is cheaper to ship cattle to Crossfield and back again, than to ship them to Gleichen. Also feed is very scarce down there.

G. G. Murdoch shipped ten cars of hay last week, a part of which went to Milk River where hay is also very scarce. This speaks well for Crossfield as a hay-growing district.

F. Reintam who has been baling hay for G. Murdoch, is shipping his outfit consisting of a gasoline engine and has press to Didsbury.

game between Airdrie and Didsbury which was for 4:30 p.m. faced, but owing to some error, the Didsbury boys did not reach here in their autos until about 5:30 o'clock.

The game began at 6 p.m. and after a very few minutes of hard play a goal was shot by one of the Didsbury boys, which was shortly followed by another goal, thus during a short time a score of 2 to 0 in favor of Didsbury. The Airdrie boys however kept up pluck, and soon the game began to be played fast and rough from both sides. Toward the first of the last half the Airdrie boys managed to make a goal which of course as the result would be especially on the account of Airdrie being from the south, a shout followed. Towards the middle of the last half another goal was made by Airdrie followed with a shout, this the two teams stood 2 to 2.

The Airdrie good players, however, did not seem to be able to locate the nets with the exception of a few instances and Hart, who was playing for Airdrie, tried several of his fine rushes, but, was mostly always checked, or if he did make the rush, his shots did not count.

As far as could be learned, there were three new players on the Didsbury team, as Capt. Weichel, and Hurd being away and Hart playing for Airdrie. The three new men were Stark, Snyder and Char's Smith. The new players however gave a good account of themselves, owing to having not played much with the Didsbury Seniors before.

The judge of the game, Mr. Glover of Airdrie, did not come up to the mark for a man in his position and as stated before, there was some rough playing and disputes.

FLORIDA

I was very enthusiastic and pleased with the crops I saw growing down there, and having only 20 acres, I purchased twenty more, for I know that no state in the Union has ever been settled with the farmers and fruit growers as fast as Florida is going to be settled in the next year or two, for when you see crops raised netting the growers from $200.00 to $500.00 per acre on $30 per acre land, you know the chance will not last long to buy this land so cheaply.

I have before me a snap-shot which I took of a field of sugar cane and sweet potatoes on the farm of D. R. Brinson near Dexter, Florida. The picture shows a group of men standing in front of the cane, and these men could average five and one-half feet in height and they are only half as tall as the cane. Mr. Brinson informed me that this cane boiled down for molasses would net him over $200.00 per acre. The sweet potatoes, of course, were growing in ridges, but there no ridges to be seen in the photo. The vines are a tangled mass of vegetation 4 ft. high, and it was almost impossible to walk through them. Mr. Brinson informed me that the yield would be over 200 bus. per acre, and they were a second crop on the land this year, he having reached crop of Irish potatoes in the spring.

While down there I visited the Hastings district, which is about 15 miles from Palatka, and is famous for the raising of Irish potatoes for early market. This district has been settled only a few years, and land there is now selling at from $100.00 to $250.00 per acre, and I do not consider the soil as good as Burbank-Ocala or Florida-Palatka. They plant potatoes in January, corn is planted between the rows before the potatoes are dug, and when digging the potatoes the soil is thrown around the corn, which should then be knee high, the potatoes being dug about April 25th to May 1st. As soon as corn is laid by, a one-horse drill is used and velvet beans or field peas are drilled in between the corn rows.

Then when corn is ready and is removed from the field, the velvet beans or field peas will be about ready for hay, or you can turn in the cattle and hogs to fatten on this feed, and what is trampled down by the hogs and cattle is plowed under for fertilizer, which is as good or better than red clover for that purpose. In this way three crops are raised on the land, all in one year.

Just while I am mentioning this, I would like to compare the lands you are selling down there in Florida at $30.00 per acre with land in Illinois or Nebraska selling as $200 per acre. One crop of corn, say 50 bushels per acre, on Illinois or Nebraska corn land at $25.00 per bushel is a revenue of $1250.00 per acre and this is a good revenue, too, for the corn country. Now Irish potatoes in Florida marketed in April or May will bring you over $200.00 per acre, your corn will make at least 50 bushels per acre at 60 to 75 cents per bushel and the velvet beans or cow peas are worth for hay or green feed not less than $25.00 per acre. Now, how can land prices help but go up with such conditions. If land in the corn belt in Illinois and Nebraska is worth $200.00 per acre and at which price it is actually selling, then every acre you people have down there is worth $1000.00 per acre. Now don't be flattered, but I can assure you that some of that land which is now being settled upon and improved will soon be worth that price. I visited the Sanford celery country only a short distance from the lands you are selling, and I cannot see that those people down there have any advantage that is not found on either of your tracts, and improved celery land there is changing hands at prices that range from $800 to $2000 per acre.

I visited many other points in Florida, going down to Tarpon Springs, Tampa and other places, and in all these districts I inspected lands advertised for sale, but must say that the land down in those districts seemed to be too low; it was near the coast and much of the land was covered with water.

The lands that you are selling which I inspected are all high and dry and are nearly level, sloping just enough to run the water off in case of heavy rains, and nowhere did I see land on your tracts under water except in the natural water courses that drain off the water and which are a great necessity and make these lands so desirable.

I spent nearly three weeks looking over your lands and will say right here if every one going to Florida could see as much of the state as I did, there would not be a acre of good land for sale at $30 per acre by the end of the year 1911.

I looked over several tracts of land both east and west of Mobile, Alabama, and while they are some good lands in the district, the elevation is too low for me. At one place west of Mobile, where I stopped over night, the hotel keeper told me the elevation was three feet above sea level. Just consider my feelings when I remembered I could not swim.

To all those contemplating a visit to Florida figure at least two weeks to look over the land; for the longer you are there, the better you can realize the possibilities of that wonderful soil, and nowhere will you find anyone more willing to take you over the land and show you the district than the men working for the New South Farm and Home Company. I was treated royally and never have I had a more delightful time than that which I spent looking over these lands. It was a treat to me.

Yours truly,

(Signed) H. A. SCHUMANN

THE NEWSPAPER "JOB"

Many people think that a newspaper falls through without work or concerted action or plan. The Rev. James McLeod, a Presbyterian minister at Pasadena, was of this opinion, and asked to be allowed to edit one edition of the Pasadena Star. The editor gladly accepted the opportunity to go fishing, and the minister took up his duties in the newspaper office. This is how he felt, at last at the end of his task, which it must be said had been done quite creditably: "My time is now almost up as I pen this last line; my brain is befuddled; my hand is almost paralyzed and am glad to vacate the holy spot. Such rush and riot. Such a jumble and polypour. It strikes me as an effort to bring order out of the chaos, and to do it lightning quick. I am reminded of the memorable words: 'The earth was without form and void and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the spirit moved upon the face of the waters.' Never more shall I criticize newspaper men. I shall pray for them. They will have my heart's forbearance henceforth and forever. They are the hardest worked, shortest lived, poorest paid and I brain worked on this weary old world."
